

NUXATED IRON

"Say Doctor, this Prescription Works Like Magic."

Physician Says Nuxated Iron Quickly Puts Astonishing Strength and Energy into the Veins of Men and Brings Roses to the cheeks of Nervous, Run-down Women.

Ask the first hundred strong, healthy people you meet to what they owe their strength and see how many reply "Nuxated Iron." Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician of Bellevue Hospital, (Outdoor Dept.) New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, says: "Thousands of people suffer from iron deficiency, but do not know what to take. There is nothing like organic iron—Nuxated Iron to quickly enrich the blood, make beautiful, healthy women, and strong, vigorous iron men. To make absolutely sure that my patients get real organic iron and not some form of the metallic variety, I always prescribe Nuxated Iron in its original packages. Nuxated Iron will increase the strength and endurance of weak, nervous run-down folks in two weeks' time in many instances."

Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron recommended above by Dr. Sullivan can be obtained from any good drug store, or by direct purchase from the manufacturer's prescription on an absolute manufacturer's guarantee of success or money refunded.

VIEWING LIVESTOCK INDUSTRIES.

Today Ogden and Salt Lake citizens are visiting the great livestock plants across the viaduct, which are becoming a very big part of the industrial life of this community. Many of those who are making the trip of sightseeing are learning for the first time that Ogden is now the livestock center of the intermountain country.

Some time this summer there should be a reception day, on which everybody would be welcome to go through the stockyards district and see the great developments in that section of Ogden in the past two years.

Ogden does not fully understand how great has been the growth of that part of Ogden.

ENGLISH VIEW OF OUR PART IN THE WAR.

On the anniversary of America's entrance into the war, the London Observer made this eulogistic comment: "Once to every man and nation comes the moment to decide."

In the strife 'twixt Truth and Falsehood for the good or evil side."

These are American lines. They are not less apt because they have become hackneyed since the Civil war. They go to the heart of this business as to that. It is not only such a moment now. It is that sort of the greatest and most searching moment which has yet confronted mankind. There is no looking back. There is no mediocre way. There is no halting nor refuge in evasion and lies. There is no issue to be found between victory and defeat.

The United States will neither back down nor back out. If their organization for war is behind the time-table in some respects, let us remember that this has been inevitable owing to two things. First of all, owing to the Russian collapse American commitments have become huger in every respect than was expected at the outset. Secondly, all democracies are at a permanent disadvantage in organizing for war. That is why democracies must conquer or perish now. The more free and peaceful they are in their normal existence, the more they are embarrassed and delayed when imperilled by efficient despots. But though in the case of a country so big—with its nearer coast three thousand miles and the further coast six thousand miles away from the scene of war—the difficulties are past. Worse than those with which we ourselves had to grapple in the first eighteen months, they will be as surely overcome. One thing is already certain. But for America's intervention the cause of the allies would have been lost. She is giving her navy, her ships and her shipbuilding, her food supplies, and her treasure, as well as the millions of her best manhood. Behind all now lies the final guarantee of her maritime, and economic power. We on this side can hold on, fight on, with good heart and faith, because we know that within a measurable period, surely, decisively, America's full coming in will make the League of Liberty far stronger in several ways than before Russia went out.

Russia's collapse has been, needless to say, the stupendous disappointment and most perilous misfortune of the last twelve months. To President Wilson that exit has been a peculiar pain. It leaves France and Britain fighting for their lives. It has doubled the burden on America. A year ago two hopes almost equally important seemed to have dawned for the cause of the allies and the assurance of the world's future. The Russian armies were better equipped and stronger than they had ever been. The Russian revolution seemed to have superadded a moral inspiration and promise comparing in value with American intervention itself and with the new fighting brotherhood of the English-speaking world. Now of those two new hopes for the world only one remains. But America's increased responsibility is also her enhanced glory. That she sees it so from her Atlantic to her Pacific shores we know. All history will see it so when America, by making good, has changed by her saving action the whole course of human destinies. The American nation, finally welded and made one within itself, will then be the key-stone of a new moral and political order in the world. It will be a world "made safe for democracy." To democracy and freedom and settled peace, will belong the future, not to despotic dominations, with its everlasting nightmare of militarist conspiracy, continual menace and renewed massed murder. These would have been like a spreading and thickening cloud over a darkening world while the United States would be brought more and more by German supervision of knowledge, science and invention, within the sinister orbit of all the evils which have oppressed and lacerated Europe. For the final deliverance from that nightmare let us work now, staking our all for right and light."

YELLOW DOGS IN AMERICA.

Slackers are now being called "yellow dogs," which is not an inappropriate title.

Every man who fails to do his part in this war should be branded a "yellow dog" and the name should stick, even after the war.

This is a mighty struggle for a nation's self-preservation. Those not willing to help maintain America as a free nation should either move out, or, if they persist on staying, be branded as yellow dogs.

There is no middle ground in this awful conflict, on the decision of which rests the future of our homes. We shall continue to be free, or be slaves. The man who refuses to fight to ward off the horrors of slavery is a yellow dog—nothing more, nothing less.

BOYS OF S. P. BAND ARE MADE OF RIGHT MATERIAL

"Editor Standard: I have read various articles in your paper both pro and con in relation to the recent send-off given the Ogden boys, who last left for the training camp, and desire to especially treat on that part complaining of the absence of a band on that occasion."

"The Southern Pacific band has, free of charge, played for fashion shows, departure of Ogden boys for the training camps, Red Cross drives, Knights of Columbus benefits for the soldiers, and two Liberty loan drives at Ogden Tabernacle."

"Our band performs for pleasure only, never accepting compensation for services rendered. We stand willing and ready at all times to assist in any public function. However, we received no invitation from any one to assist in the feature mentioned above, and therefore took it for granted that arrangements had been made for some other band."

"If there are any complaints, it all rests with the men who have charge of the draft board and not with the bands of the city, as it appears no request was made by them for the services of a band."

"In five weeks we will be fully uniformed with the best uniforms this side of New York, and would consider it a pleasure at any time, outside of working hours, to assist in every way possible, taking into consideration the fact that we do not care to displace any band out on any job for which they might receive compensation."

"Yours respectfully,
FRED L. HOLLINGSWORTH,
"Secy. S. P. band."

WILLIAM DESMOND IN "SOCIETY FOR SALE"

Triangle has been hitting on a delightful series of character roles for that clever and original actor, William Desmond. Who, that has seen him as the dashing pirate in "The Sea Panther," will forget the exquisite little character touches with which he endowed his role, in that picture? Now his many-sided genius will shine in a new role. He appears as a good-natured, thrifty English society man in "Society for Sale." The feature which will be shown at the Cozy theater tomorrow and Monday. He is a regular "Are you there, old chappie?" type with a monocle and all the trimmings. Oh, yes, and Gloria Swanson is Desmond's new leading woman. Miss Swanson was a former comedy queen, and this picture serves to introduce her for the first time in a dramatic role. "Society for Sale" pictures the efforts of a fashion-shop mannikin to break into high society. She hires Billy to open the path for her after he is dead broke. Poor Billy falls in love with her. "Doncha know," and the whole story is "deuced clever."

MUSICIANS ARE DOING THEIR PART IN PATRIOTISM

Editor Standard: In answer to a communication appearing in the Standard, published Friday, May 3, by Mrs. V. Bailey, would state that the lady evidently is not well informed in matters pertaining to the patriotism of the musical fraternity. Of all classes of people that are called upon for patriotic duty, the musicians hold the front rank, and at no time have they failed to respond. The bands and orchestras have repeatedly donated their services for parades, dances and other entertainments. What Mrs. Bailey means by the expression, "Why not throw their hatred, their unionism, etc., aside," we can't understand, as there is none existing. Unionism has come to stay, and stands for protection, fraternalism and patriotism, and will live forever. The Ogden Musicians' Protective union has contributed fourteen members to the service of the U. S. A., also subscribed $500 in Liberty bonds. The individual members have subscribed over $500 in bonds and thrift stamps, and have given freely of their service in a professional way. Does this show a lack of patriotism? The musicians were in no way responsible for the seeming neglect shown the last contingent leaving for the front, as there is not one musician who would have been other than glad to have turned out. There have been occasions when it has been impossible to assemble enough musicians to form the proper instrumentation to make a creditable showing, but this cannot be construed as a lack of patriotism.

The fact of the musicians being repeatedly called to donate their services, accounts for the necessity of their appeals to the public on behalf of music and uniform.

At a meeting held last Sunday by the union musicians of the city, arrangements were made to establish a military band, for the special purpose of furnishing music on all occasions, of a patriotic nature, absolutely free of charge.

We feel that criticisms of this nature, without a knowledge of facts, are untimely and uncalled for.

Respectfully,
(Signed) CHAS. C. THATCHER,
Secretary of Local 356, A. F. of M.

GREATEST RIDERS IN WEST IN "UP OR DOWN"

In the Triangle play, "Up or Down?" featuring George Hernandez, some of the greatest riders in the west are seen in the saddle. Three of the punches used in this picture are boys from Triangle's big ranch studio, Hartville, who have wrested honors from the greatest of the country's riders in open competition. The rodeo champions can ride anything with four legs and delight in hair-raising stunts. All the punches in the Rancho Verde country were baffled by a series of hold-ups and robberies. It remained for a mere boy to solve the mystery, but he kept the secret of Dallas Mike, ex-convict, locked safely in his bosom. This is one of the big surprises in Triangle's new western drama, "Up or Down?" at the Lyceum theater today.

Tired Nervous Mothers

Should Profit by the Experience of These Two Women

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I am the mother of four children, and for nearly three years I suffered from a female trouble with pains in my back and side, and a general weakness. I had professional attendance most of that time but did not seem to get well. As a last resort I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which I had seen advertised in the newspapers, and in two weeks noticed a marked improvement. I continued its use and am now free from pain and able to do all my housework."—Mrs. B. B. ZIELINSKA, 202 Weiss Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Portland, Ind.—"I had a displacement and suffered so badly from it at times I could not be on my feet at all. I was all run down and so weak I could not do my housework, was nervous and could not lie down at night. I took treatments from a physician but they did not help me. My Aunt recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tried it and now I am strong and well again and do my own work and I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound the credit."—Mrs. JOSEPHINE KIMBLE, 935 West Race Street, Portland, Ind.
